

STATES WANT LINCOLN STATUE

Indiana, Wisconsin and Illinois Seek Memorial Discarded Here.

The Lincoln statue, which stood for more than a generation in Judiciary Park in front of the old court house, is not going to be scrapped in casvas and stored away in a warehouse if Congress can prevent it. Three members of the House have introduced resolutions providing for its removal to their respective districts.

Representative Lohrman, of Indiana, yesterday introduced a resolution authorizing the presentation of the statue to the Nancy Hanks Lincoln Memorial Burial Ground Commission, an organization that has charge of the cemetery in Spencer, Ind., in which the body of Nancy Hanks, Lincoln's mother, is interred.

This cemetery was taken over a few years ago by the State of Indiana. It is near the little town of Lincoln City, Ind.

"Lincoln City is the logical place for the Lincoln statue," Lohrman said. "It is the place where Lincoln's mother was born. It is the place where Lincoln lived for seven years. He went there at the age of 14 years and remained until he attained his majority. It is his former home and his mother's grave is there. No other place has more claim to the statue than we have."

Representative Classen, of Wisconsin, also offered a resolution yesterday to have the Lincoln statue sent to the city of Green Bay, Wis. This city is one of the oldest in the United States. It is on the old site of Fort Howard, of historical interest.

Another city which wants the Lincoln statue is Moline, Ill. Representative Graham, of that district, recently introduced a resolution in the House providing for removing the statue to Moline, where he city authorities have agreed to accept it is properly displayed.

The statue was removed from Judiciary Park because of recent changes in the courthouse and park which made the statue out of keeping with the general scheme there.

Thieves Taste "Alcohol," Then Abandon Poison

Memphis, Tenn., Jan. 5.—The epicurean liquor taste of alcohol thieves today probably saved Memphis from a "blind death."

Six barrels of a deadly poison used to kill tree pests and had been made up in grain alcohol barrels, were stolen today from the W. N. Vilkerson and Son, wholesale drug store. Through the grain alcohol labels had not been removed from the barrels, the thieves, believed to be bootleggers, discovered the contents were poisonous and abandoned the loot in the street.

Later thieves got a barrel of real grain alcohol from the Breeders' Chemical Company.

More than 500 gallons of grain alcohol have been stolen from chemical plants here in two weeks.

V. A. Braunstein Promoted.

Announcement was made yesterday of the advancement of V. A. Braunstein, for many years chief clerk of Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, in this city, to the position of assistant general passenger agent with offices at Richmond, Va.

Income Tax Facts Worth Knowing

No. 2

Twenty thousand persons last year paid a fine of $5 each for failure to file an income-tax return for 1918, although their income for that year was not taxable.

The revenue act provides an exemption of $1,000 for single persons and $2,000 for married persons and heads of families, and an additional exemption of $300 for each person dependent upon the taxpayer, if such person is under 18 years of age, or incapable of self-support. The delinquents last year were persons whose income exactly equaled the amount of the exemptions and who considered it unnecessary, therefore, to file a return, and others whose income was not taxable because of dependents, and who were under a similar mistaken impression.

For example, a single man with a net income of $1,000 was supporting a sister for whom he was allowed an exemption of $200, placing his income in the nontaxable list. For this reason he did not file a return. When his delinquency was discovered through a return filed by his employer, who is required to report payments of $1,000 or more to each employee, he was fined $5.

Must File a Return. To avoid penalty, every person whose income for the last year equaled or exceeded $1,000, or $2,000, according to their marital status or their status as the head of a family, must file a return. The law makes no exceptions, the penalty for failure being a fine of not more than $1,000.

Head of a Family. Whether or not a person is the "head of a family" and entitled to a $2,000 exemption is a question to be determined largely by circumstances surrounding each individual case. The fixing of his status decides, in the end, whether he is taxable or not.
